

Dr. Mohamed Bouattour
Medical Doctor
The University Beaujon Hospital
Clichy, France

Mohamed Bouattour is a Medical Doctor at Beaujon University Hospital, holding this position since November 2007. He is board certified in Gastroenterology and Hepatology and also in Medical Oncology. He is currently serving as practitioner physician in the Department of Digestive Oncology and Consultant Physician in the Department of Hepatology at Beaujon Hospital.

Dr. Bouattour has expertise in the field of the liver tumors, hepatocellular carcinoma and preclinical and clinical researches. He works in close collaboration with a multidisciplinary team including, liver surgeons, radiologists, oncologist, hepatologist and pathologists, to improve the management of patients with liver cancers at Beaujon center.

Dr. Bouattour was involved in presenting several collaborative works in national and international scientific meetings. He authored and co-authored scientific papers in the field of liver and cancer diseases. He is investigator and Sub investigator in several phase 1, 2 and 3 clinical trials.

Dr. Bouattour is member of several national and international societies such as the American Association for the Study of Liver Diseases (AASLD) and the European Association for the Study of the Liver (EASL), the International Liver Cancer Association (ILCA) and the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO).